

Law and Ethics for Case Managers

Pre conference workshop

15 September 2010, 9.30am – 4.30pm, Melbourne

prior to Case Management Society of Australia (CMSA) 13th National Conference Workshop: $350 inc. GST (fee includes a copy of the Legal & Ethical guidelines and lunch)

Ethics

- Four ethical principles impacting on case management

Law

- Confidentiality & Privacy
- Breach of contract
- Informed Consent
- Negligence
- Conflict of Interest
- Capacity & Competency
- Discrimination

The workshop objectives will enable attendees to deal confidently with everyday dilemmas as they arise in the workplace. Real life cases and scenarios will be explored and analysed so that the content of the workshop is highly relevant to practitioners. Meaningful publications, combined with the subject matter covered, will ensure attendees can return to the workplace with the requisite knowledge and skills to work professionally and advise others confidently.

Facilitator: Scott Trueman

Queensland Health

Scott is the Chairperson of the Case Management Society of Australia (CMSA); elected to the position in 2009.

Scott has practiced law in various jurisdictions, including the High Court of Australia and worked overseas within the merchant banking sector having obtained further qualifications in commerce and accounting. With a number of post graduate qualifications, inclusive of a Masters Degree in Health and Business, Scott is currently completing his PhD thesis.

Scott's national profile includes facilitating workshops and presenting at conferences, along with adjunct University presentations, related to Law, Health and Business.

Scott is the author of both the CMSA Ethical and Legal Case Guideline Publications and is a regular contributor to various journals and editorial publications. His current representation on other professional and community Boards and committees brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to his extensive repertoire.